Master Course Opera Accompaniment for Pianists (Deutsche Spieloper and Mozart) August 01 – 08, 2012

The Master Course Opera Accompaniment for Pianists is a new part of isa's voice master course program and was developed in cooperation with J:opera Jennersdorf: Festivalsommer.

Pianists and prospective accompanists will get the chance to work out an extensive repertoire with the renowned opera accompanist Brenda Rein, coach for KS Johan Botha, Deon van der Walt a.o. The master course's main goal is to get an engagement in an opera project. The participants of the isa master course for voice as well as singers of the J:opera production "Der Wildschütz" will be involved during the lessons.

Duration:

Check-in: Wednesday, August 01, 2012

Professors

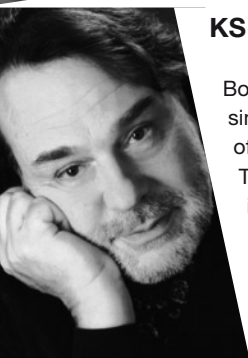

Peter Edelmann (Baritone), Vienna

Baritone Peter Edelmann began his musical studies with his father Otto Edelmann and graduated at the University of Music and Performing Arts in Vienna. In 1989 he won First Prize, the Mozart Prize in addition to seven special prizes at the Belvedere Competition in Vienna. In 1990 he became a member of the Deutsche Oper Berlin. In 2001 he returned to Vienna (Staatsoper and Volksoper) and worked as a freelance singer. Since then he has enlarged his repertoire to over 75 roles around the world and has appeared regularly at the Newport Music Festival in USA. He has worked with conductors such as C. Thielemann (Tannhäuser), F. Welser-Möst, P. Steinberg, J. E. Gardiner, C. Hogwood, Y. Bashmet (Fledermaus), G. Neuhold (König Kandaules). He regularly appears in concerts, especially Lieder Recitals, and recorded numerous CDs and DVDs. He gave his voice to Gaston in the German version of the Walt Disney Picture The Beauty and the Beast. In 2005 he founded with his wife the Otto Edelmann Society (OES), which helps young singers (preparation for auditions, career guidance, ...). Peter Edelmann teaches at the University for Music and Performing Arts in Vienna.

KS Thomas Moser (Tenor), Vienna

Born in the United States of America, Thomas Moser has been an Austrian citizen since 1992. Following completion of his university studies, he became a student of Martial Singher at the renowned Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, and The Music Academy of the West, in Santa Barbara, California. He participated in Masterclasses under the tutelage of Singher, Lotte Lehmann and Gérard Souzay. His first opera engagement was 1974 at the Graz Opera in Austria. Two years later he moved to the Vienna State Opera. Since 1977, Moser is a regular guest on the stages of all the world's best known opera theatres. He has also made a name for himself in concert and "Lied" repertoire, and has been a guest in the most famous concert halls worldwide. Thomas Moser has had the privilege of working with the most famous conductors – Bernstein, Böhm, Abbado, Muti, Solti, Mehta, Levine, Rudel, Leinsdorf, Metzmacher, von Dohnányi, Sir Colin Davis, Harnoncourt, Schneider, Sinopoli, Gatti, Armin and Jordan, to name only a few. Moser has recorded for all of the major labels of our time. He is a sought-after instructor and has given Masterclasses in the USA and Europe. He is often engaged as a juror for international singing competitions.

KS Dunja Vejzović (Mezzosopran), Stuttgart

After graduation at the Music Academy Zagreb, Dunja Vejzović accepted her first engagement at the Nürnberg Opera, where she appeared in important roles and collaborated with renowned directors right away. She then switched to the Frankfurt Opera and started her international career with Kundry in „Parsifal“ at the Bayreuth Festival 1978 – 80. Herbert von Karajan engaged her for his recording and the performances of „Parsifal“ at the Salzburger Osterfestspiele 1980/1981. With Karajan she also recorded „Senta“ and „Ortrud“, roles she performed in Salzburg as well. Dunja Vejzović appeared on stage of the most important opera houses: Scala Milano, Met, Barcelona, Paris, Rom and the State Operas Hamburg and Vienna. She worked with directors such as Neuenfels and Robert Wilson, and conductors such as Carlos Kleiber, Lorin Maazel, James Levine, Claudio Abbado, Riccardo Muti, Zubin Mehta and Christoph Eschenbach. Dunja Vejzović devoted herself early on to pedagogic work and has been professor at the Musikhochschule in Stuttgart since 1999. In addition she gives masterclasses and serves as jury member in competitions. She emphasises in particular the technique of the Belcanto. Many of her students have won awards and perform at important opera houses.

Brenda Rein (Piano), Vienna

Brenda Rein was born in Cape Town, South Africa, and studied piano at the University of Cape Town. She preferred accompaniment to solo work, and was appointed official accompanist at the music school. After a few years she became rehearsal pianist at the Nico Malan Opera House in Cape Town and was later promoted to the position of director of studies. She also worked at the State Opera in Pretoria in the same capacity. In 1991 she moved to Zurich at the behest of the South African lyric tenor, Deon van der Walt, who worked exclusively with her for the following years. She made a brief return to her country in 1998, where she started a programme for young singers called the Black Ties. The singers received extensive training, as well as opportunities for performing in public. Miss Rein was also in charge of lecture demonstrations about opera which became very popular. During this period she was approached by Johan Botha, another well-known South African tenor who invited her to come to Vienna and work with him as his personal opera coach, a position she has held now for 11 years.

Musical Interpretation

Johannes Wildner

Programme: Conductor Johannes Wildner will work out prepared opera arias with selected students from the voice master course. It is vital to deliver a perfectly prepared musical performance at each audition as would be the case for every professional engagement. The participants will receive helpful and practical advice as well as further suggestions for their musical career from the internationally renowned conductor.

Location: Jennersdorf

Time: August 04 – 06, 2012

Participation: Active: selected singers

Passive: all participants of the isa master course for voice

Scenic Interpretation

Monika Steiner

Programme: Part 1: Working on the studied arias from the scenic point of view considering the dramaturgically situative aspect of the chosen piece within the complete work.

Part 2: The dialogue in Lortzing's operas taking "Der Wildschütz" as an example. The course participants will work out dialogue parts of J:opera's current production together. During the workshop the students get an opportunity to work on specifically chosen texts, interpreting the contents and looking at their partner's attitude in different role combinations.

The students must prepare the dialogue parts by heart.

Location: Jennersdorf

Time: August 01 – 07, 2012

Participation: Active: selected singers, Passive: all participants of the isa master course for voice and for opera accompaniment

Opera Accompaniment
